EMPLOYEE COFFEE
Before you start your day of learning, help us kick off Community Learning Day with our June Employee Coffee. We'll introduce our newest colleagues, enjoy complimentary breakfast treats, pick-up sustainable Community Learning Day swag, and hear from Dean Ian Lapp as he shares an update on the Undergraduate School and an overview of our Centennial Class of 2019.

10:00am - 10:50am

BUT IS THAT SUSTAINABLE?
How impactful is your gadget addiction... or what of your Starbucks habit? Will your town's plastic bag ban help or hurt? What's the one activity you do that dwarfs all the others in its carbon emissions (YES, there is one!), and what can you do about it? And what other actions can you take at home and work that really decrease your footprint?! Let's chat! Presented by the Sustainability Office's Asheen Phansey.

DE-STRESS AT YOUR DESK
Sitting at a desk for 8+ hours can add a lot of stress to your body and mind. The solution: office yoga. This session includes a sequence of poses that can be done right at your desk to minimize discomfort throughout the day and make it easier to focus on work. Presented by IT's Danielle Fleury.

FACT OR FICTION: HOW CAN YOU TELL ONLINE?
Feel constantly barraged by information while online? News, social media, advertisements, online reviews. It can be overwhelming. Come learn skills to help you cut through the clutter and get to the facts in this interactive session (bring your cell phone!). Presented by the Library's Stephanie Farne and Samantha Porter.
FACULTY SPOTLIGHT: DELIVERING BAD NEWS MESSAGES

During this session, participants will experience a class session similar to one taught in the undergraduate Business Writing course. Participants will learn general business communication theory about delivering bad news messages, relate the general best practices to their own experiences, and draft a message in response to a mini-case scenario. Presented by Arts & Humanities' Visiting Associate Professor and Director of Rhetoric, Kristen Getchell.

MANAGE & PREVENT CONFLICT AT HOME AND WORK

At this program, we will learn 1) how to avoid unnecessary conflict, 2) strategies to de-escalate conflict and confidently deal with verbal abuse, and 3) how to engage in difficult conversations. This presentation will be interactive and practical with videos and role playing scenarios. Presented by Public Safety's David Pope.

SIMPLIFY THE ADMISSIONS & FINANCIAL AID PROCESS

Courtney Minden and Meredith Stover will help demystify the world of college admission and financial aid by taking you through the college search process, including best practices around the application and financial aid. This session is ideal for parents of high-school students. Presented by Undergraduate Admission's Courtney Minden and Student Financial Services' Meredith Stover.

TIPS FROM A CAR GUY: RELIABILITY, MAINTENANCE & REPAIR

In this session, we will cover insights and information on automotive reliability, maintenance, and repair. Specifically, what problems may arise during ownership of a vehicle, and what to worry about and what not to. Also, learn how to recognize when you are being sold services that do not need to be performed, saving you money and stress. The session will encourage questions from the audience. Presented by car expert and local entrepreneur, Doug Wolfe.
COMMUNITY LEARNING DAY

EMPLOYEE ART EXHIBIT

Displayed in the gallery on the 1st floor of Hollister, you’ll find paintings, sculptures, drawings, ceramics, and more created by our Babson faculty and staff as well as our extended network of colleagues from our campus vendor partners. Enjoy a self-guided tour at any time throughout Community Learning Day until the end of July.

11:00am - 11:50am

COME PLAY IN BABSON'S SALESFORCE™ SANDBOX

This session will provide attendees with a basic overview of all things Salesforce at Babson! Learn about the current state of the platform and future plans to expand and grow! Then come play in our Salesforce CRM sandbox! The Salesforce team will have a variety of Sandbox Salesforce logins available for you to have some hands on Experiential Learning (one of my favs)! Presented by IT's Mike Budd, Nancy Doherty, Manjula Gangavelly, Jake Jacobsen, Marianne Miller, Shahid Perveen, and Bridget Samuel.

ET&A CHALLENGE: BABSON'S NEXT 100 YEARS (STRATEGIC PLANNING CHARRETTE)

As always at an ET&A Challenge, bring your best ideas and solutions to 1) practice our Entrepreneurial Thought & Action™ skills together and, 2) assist a colleague, department, or the College in solving a problem or taking advantage of an opportunity. Help us answer two important Centennial questions at this ET&A Challenge: What does Babson need to maintain (both academically and administratively) in order to succeed in the next hundred years? and What does Babson need to change in order to succeed in the next hundred years? There is no preparation necessary to participate. Presented by HR's Elizabeth Schirick.
FITNESS & MINDFULNESS HEALTH APPS

Want to increase your fitness or mindfulness? There's an app for that! Join six wellness-focused colleagues for demos of three fitness and three mindfulness apps they actually use. You'll also receive a side-by-side comparison of the apps to help you choose the right one for you. Presented by BEE's Manassah Bradley, HR's Paula Doherty, and IT's Lisa Keohane, Terez Lowry, and Vadim Manokhin.

LINE DANCING THROUGH THE DECADES

Join Michele and Colleen as they take you through some of the most popular line dances of the last five decades. Please wear sneakers or dance shoes and comfortable clothing that you can move in. Presented by Academic Services' Colleen Biron and Management's Michele Kerrigan.

PLANT-BASED EATING: WHY IS EVERYONE TALKING ABOUT IT?

Plant-based educator and graduate of the T. Colin Campbell Plant-Based Nutrition Certificate Program, Abby Power will walk you through why eating a plant-based diet can be the single greatest thing that you do for yourself and for the planet. Come join us in this collaborative session to share stories and to learn how living this lifestyle cannot only be fun, but also delicious! Presented by the Registrar's Abby Power.

YOU CAN DRAW!

This workshop will take you through a series of exercises that will help you actively look at the world around you in order to make drawings of what you see and increase your capacity for visualization. You'll do 3-4 quick drawings to get comfortable with the process and materials, and 1-2 long drawings as a way of developing basic drawing skills. We'll be working with Charcoal, which can get messy so please dress appropriately. All Art Supplies will be provided. Presented by Sorenson's Danielle Krcmar.

12:00pm - 1:30pm

EMPLOYEE LUNCH
Whether or not you participate in any learning programs, gather up your colleagues and join us for our complimentary Employee Lunch. Chartwells will cook up an international spread with many plant-based options, while our resident DJ, Jeff Hall, will spin some tunes.

1:30pm – 2:50pm

PLANT-BASED EATING: HOW TO CREATE A DELICIOUS, NUTRIENT-DENSE MEAL AT TRIM
Concerned with being hungry and unsatisfied by moving toward a plant-based lifestyle? We will show you how to create meals that are fulfilling, multi-faceted, energy boosting and healthy with foods available at Trim! A hand’s on activity will help visualize this lifestyle change! Presented by Chartwell’s Shavaun Cloran.

“A CLASS DIVIDED”: CONVERSATIONS ABOUT RACE AND PRIVILEGE
We will watch excerpts from the recent Frontline broadcast, “A Class Divided“. Using the 50 year old classroom experiment of one Iowa teacher, we will use interactive polling (bring your cell phone!) and discussion to explore issues related to race and privilege which persist today. Presented by Cabinet member Jane Edmonds.

BASIC COOKIE DECORATING WITH ROYAL ICING

In this session, we will learn how a few simple tricks can make a big impression on homemade cookies. This session is geared towards individuals with little to no decorating experience. Everyone will have a chance to practice the icing tricks and take home a cookie. Presented by the Graduate School’s Jessica Hose.

CENTENNIAL CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS TOUR

Join David for a walking tour of the five major Centennial projects, including the Tennis Facility, Weissman Foundry, Babson Commons, Babson Recreation and Athletics Complex (BRAC), and Healey Park. Sturdy shoes are recommended and hart hats will be provided at BRAC as the site will still be active. Presented by Facilities’ Dave Grissino.

DANGER! PREVENTION, RECOGNITION & SELF DEFENSE

Come join Public Safety to learn about personal safety awareness, and risk avoidance, recognition and prevention. We will have an engaging hands-on session that demonstrates basic self-defense techniques. Presented by Public Safety’s Fred Winslow.

SERVICE PROJECT: SIT & KNIT

Calling all knitters and knitting wannabes! Whether you’re an expert or brand new to knitting, we welcome you to join us in knitting squares to donate to the Warm Up America Foundation. The squares we knit will be sent to Warm Up America where they will be sewn into afghans and distributed to people in need. Instruction will be provided for new knitters, and materials will be provided for all (though knitters are welcome to bring their own size 7 needles). Presented by the Library’s Emily Miles and Samantha Porter.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP (OF ALL KINDS) EXPO

Join us for this 4-in-1 event! Start off by perusing our first-ever Entrepreneurship (of All Kinds) Expo where you’ll find many examples of Babson employees and teams applying Entrepreneurial Thought & Action™ (ET&A), both inside and outside of work. Next grab a drink and a snack as you mingle with colleagues across campus. Then join us for our Two Truths & A Lie event hosted by Lawrence P. Ward with fellow Cabinet member panelists Michael Layish, Amir Reza, and Kerry Salerno, where you’ll laugh and test your Babson history knowledge while figuring out what’s real and what we’ve made up. And while you’re here, check out the Employee Art Exhibit across the street in the Hollister Gallery.
